

PART H. Prototype Testing and Data Collection Plan

The mural's testing relies on the opinions of the stakeholder and students. Once the murals were designed, we would communicate through email or through an in-person meeting to get feedback and schedule a time to paint the mural. Once the murals are painted, the students' reactions and opinions will be analyzed to see if it improves their overall mood and view of the school.