

Element H: we tested the design by seeing if the water pump pumps water through the tower and recycles through the base back into the tower and then we stested by seeing if it watered the plants at a sufficient rate.