Element B: Documentation and Analysis of Prior Design Attempts

1. Mr. O'Farrell's Photography Light Board Now (2/10/25)

The photography light board is disconnected into two different pieces with this light and reflector board being held by two separate stands. The problem with this is that you have to carry around two pieces of equipment un-efficiently. Our task is to create a mechanism that makes the light and reflector board into one.

- 2: Complete Kit 5-in-1 Reflector with Table-Top / Stand Board Kit

This photography light board is held by a mechanism that perfectly demonstrates holding on the light stand white being able to hold the reflector board. It is created to allow for a compact and portable diffusion system that can be positioned directly for a light stand central pole.

3. UTEBIT Photography Reflector Holder for Light Stand(2 Pack),Heavy Duty Metal Clamp Holder, Light Reflector with Stand, Photo Umbrella Clamps for Studio, Light Stan

This clamp is designed by the company UTEBIT that specializes in making a heavy duty/sturdy clamp holder. This clamp can hold both a light reflector and the light itself so we might want to put some similarities this clamp has into our project but overall some things we just won't do similar.

4. Julius Studio [2 Pack] Clamp Clip Holder Light Stand Mount Bracket with Umbrella Reflector Holder & 1/4, 3/8 Inch Female Screw Adapter Thread Brass Photography Studio, JSAG238

The clamp is designed by the company Julius Studio. This has a strong hold for their reflector board as well as a nice screw on the get hold of th actually. Although it looks good, it's not the dimensions we are looking for.

5: Link Clamp Mount Task Lamp

This lamp designed by Peter Stathis for Pablo Designs is a great design for producing light and clamping on to a stable surface, however we are looking for a clamp to hold a board rather than a light and we need the clamping design to be for a pole rather than a desk.
