

Element J: I could make it smaller and make it sturdier by adding better support to the towers and using a different material than what the majority used one suggested metal or tin for the towers. It would require different tools and may take a longer time to build.