

Element J

My project was evaluated based on if it was safe and what chemicals were present in the water. It was noted that to improve it I should rearrange the layers. Each piece of feedback should greatly be considered as probable and logical solutions to the project.