It has two levels, plenty of room for rabbits, and has fun things for them to do.

We need a space for the smaller rabbit to hide without the other bothering it and it needs to be easy to take apart.

Very spacious and has multiple levels. Also has multiple areas for the rabbits to be and run around at.

The hutch is very big and doesn't come apart. Its also very heavy and wouldn't be easy to move.

The hutch has two levels, is on wheels, and has a small room.

The hutch is a good size and is light, but doesn't come apart. This makes it harder to clean, so it needs to be able to detach somehow.

The hutch has two levels, is on wheels, and has a small room for the rabbits to hide in.

The only thing needed is a part that can be off for easier transport and cleaning.

The hutch is easy to move, has one main level, and has a small room.

The hutch only has one level and is kind of bulky. It would need to have another level and a place for the smaller rabbit to stay.

1. This rabbit enclosure is large as it has two levels, allowing animals to climb and roam. There are enough encouraging activities for this rabbit to carry out. There is a hiding space that is large enough for this small rabbit so that the other rabbit will not disturb it. The enclosure is also easy to disassemble so cleaning and rearranging is simple.
2. This hutch is enormous. There are loads of space and levels to allow the rabbits to run around and explore. There is enough space to keep the rabbits active. The hutch is too big to move easily as it is solid and put together tightly.
3. The hutch has two levels, and is on wheels, and has a small room. The hutch is a good size, it's light, but it doesn't come apart. It makes it harder to wash and it needs to be able to come away somehow.
4. The hutch can move easily, has a small room, and has a single story. The hutch is quite bulky and just has one story. It would also need to include an additional story, as well a room big enough to hold the smaller rabbit.
